Snowballs Make Big News In Daly City

Snowballs made news in Daly City on Sunday, Jan. 21, and many persons panicked and began buying anti-freeze.

The snow was three inches on the level in Westlake. Police received complaints of snowball fights and school kids were actually skiing down the slopes near Westmoor High.

Freezing and near freezing temperatures made it the most enduring snow here in this century as it lay unmelted all day despite bright sunshine.

The Highway Patrol closed Skyline boulevard in San Mateo county and also closed the highway between Los Gatos and Santa Cruz for several hours after five inches of snow fell.

Amateur photographers throughout the Bay area began buying up film and Union Carbide Corp. in San Francisco was sold out on orders for anti-freeze.

Daly City engineer William Chapman ordered all the water drained out of the radiators of city trucks. "I was scared," he said. "We don't have snowplows or salt or cinder spreaders." The weather, he said, was "just like back east."

The post-snow temperature varied from 21 degrees at Woodside to 31 in San Mateo. In South San Francisco, Daly

City and San Bruno, phone circuits were jammed. Equipped to take 8,000 calls simultaneously, the dials would not trip properly when the system was buried under an avalanche of 14,000 calls.

And snowmen sprouted everywhere boys and girls could pack it up.

Los Angeles motorists found ice, snow and rock slides added to the hazards of freeway driving. The chilliest spot in the Bay area was on the windy summit of 3,849-foot Mount Diablo in Contra Costa County, where temperatures dropped to 10 above zero.

Prospects Good For School Tax Yes Vote

Prospects of a successful Feb. 6 Jefferson Union High School District tax election loomed brighter Monday night, Jan. 22, as election committees reported favorable signs from the voters.

"Administratively," said Superintendent Edward Morgan, "we felt the issue turned two weeks ago. The people began coming forward and saying 'what can we do to assist?'"

"We still have a lot of work to do," he added. This, he said, will be taken care of this week.

Finance chairman Peter Markovich said $1,760 had been collected for the campaign and the total would amount to $2,060.

Name Changed

Superintendent Morgan said the name of the Citizens Tax Election Committee, which met Monday night along with the High School board, had been changed to Citizens Committee for Quality Education.

He added that 21,000 post cards had been addressed to be sent to registered voters.

Many Speeches

Speakers committee chairman Robert Smice said 45 tax election speeches were made this past week and 13 more were slated, for a total of 58 speaking engagements. Supt. Morgan had made about 18 of

Terra Nova High Dedication Sunday

Daly City residents have been invited by Jefferson Union High School District Superintendent Edward Morgan to attend the dedication and open house Sunday, from 2 to 4 p. m. of the first increment of Terra Nova High School in Pacifica.

The dedication ceremonies will be held at 2 p. m. and the remaining portion will be open house. Parents are invited to tour the 13 classrooms, four shops, science labs and other rooms. The dedication ceremonies will include a talk by Terra Nova principal Dr. Harold C. Tonini; invocation by the Rev. H. D. Harkins of the First Presbyterian Church, Pacifica; welcome and introduction by James Cooper, president of the board of trustees; acceptance in behalf of the district by Superintendent Morgan; acceptance in behalf of the staff by Donald Coder, president of

The boys, both newspaper carriers, were delivering their papers early on the morning of January 6, when they smelled smoke and saw a flame from the inside of the home of Allen Foster, 88 Skyline drive, Daly City. They banged on the door until the family was alerted. Extensive smoke damage was done to the home, but the fire was extinguished before the

COUNCIL MEET QUIET EXCEPT FOR RICCO

City Recreation Needs Are Told

Daly City needs a community swimming pool. It needs picnic facilities. It needs more public buildings for indoor recreation.

These points were brought out by assistant city manager Phil Brown in an "Our Town" talk on Monday, Jan. 22, before the YWCA at the Westlake Bowl.

Brown said the city would like to have more facilities for picnicking, outdoor barbecuing, etc. The planned opening of Thornton Beach, he said, should help out this cause.

He said city officials would like to purchase a Daly City owned camp in the Sierras, a hiking facility where persons could pitch their tents and camp out in the wilderness.

More indoor recreation programs, including plans for accommodating hobbies such as sculpture, pottery making, glazing, are needed, Brown said.

Brown added he would like to encourage the use of the War Memorial building stage for both concert and summer stock theater productions.

He encouraged the continued use of school facilities to provide broader recreation programs directed by the city as a saving of duplications of school facilities.

The city, Brown said, does not have a public swimming pool. An indoor pool, he added, would have widespread appeal in Daly City.

Brown also stated the city would like to broaden its tax base to bring in more industry and commerce so tax burdens of homeowners could be reduced.

The city council met Monday night for what would have been a routine meeting but for the repeat appearance of Ricco Lagomarsino.

Lagomarsino maintained again that he is getting unfair treatment by the council, the city manager, and the city engineer. The question still at issue is whether the city will approve a business permit on a building Lagomarsino has constructed at Washington street and San Pedro road in Daly City. Windows in the building have been declared in violation of the Uniform Building Code because they are closer than three feet to the property line. Under the code, windows closer than three feet are prohibited because of possible fire hazard. Lagomarsino claims the council listens only to the city technicians, gets bogged down in red tape, and discriminates against him.

"Anything I submit is wrong," he said. "I come up with reasonable requests on the building code, but nothing I say registers."

His contention is that the council could give him a variance. But according to City Attorney Paul Hupf, it can not.

Last week Hupf stated, "I know of no provision in the law to grant a variance. There is no variance permitted, except that we would have to change the ordinance."

Lagomarsino has been advised to obtain his own engineering expert to try and work out the problem so that the building will conform to the code.

Councilman Frank Pacelli stated that the council can not act until Lagomarsino submits his new plan. "Until sufficient drawings are submitted we can't make a decision on this," said Pacelli.

Lagomarsino said he will get his own technician.

EXPENDITURES

The council approved budgeted expenditures of approximately

February 5 Is Deadline For License Fees

License plate stickers for 1962 are currently available and may be obtained without penalty through Feb. 5.

Tom Bright, a director for the state department of motor vehicles, announced that motorists who have not yet obtained the rear license plate stickers may do so by going to any of the 140 field offices of the department. Registration fees may be paid at these offices regardless of the type of vehicle involved; whether passenger or commercial and regardless of change of owner.

DC Receives A Check—$15,222.94

A check for $15,222.94 was received by Daly City last week from the State of California. This represents a remaining payment on Daly City's apportionment of the motor vehicle license fees (in lieu taxes) collected by the state, payment for period from June 1, 1961, to November 30, 1961.

The city expects to receive approximately $230,000 in in lieu tax funds during 1962.

them on behalf of the tax election, he said.

Morgan said that the first part of next week a letter would be mailed to every church and synagogue to remind parishioners that Tuesday, Feb. 6, is election day.

Mrs. Anna Eason of the High School representatives committee, said Jefferson High parents were called and there were no "no's" registered against the proposed tax hike.

Morgan said the election results would be tabulated the night of the election at the district offices.

In the Westlake area, he said, better than 50 per cent of the parents work. This means that calls would be made the night before the election to remind them to vote the next day.

Unhoused Youngsters

Commenting on the building program, Morgan stated that the Jefferson Union High School District will have approximately 600 youngsters projected who will be in need of classrooms in the district in the next four years.

Because of this, he said, the district must allocate general funds to make plans for the expansion. The money must be advanced first and then the district waits for state funds, he said, to build the future schools and additions.

Musical portions will include the Terra Nova band and chorus under the direction of William Whalen.

Terra Nova High School has facilities for 950 youngsters. This first increment is master planned for 2,000 students and an additional building is forthcoming in the next few years.

Half the students will be going to Oceana High School next year. Facilities now include 13 standard classrooms, four shops including auto, wood, electrical and home-making room; four business-educational rooms, a music room, a multi-purpose room gymnasium, library, administrative unit, snack bar and miscellaneous sanitary facilities, including locker and shower. Mothers' March Begins Jan. 30

Say YES to the new MARCH OF DIMES.

The annual Mother's March of Dimes will be held Tuesday, Jan. 30. Approximately 500 marchers will be out that evening ringing doorbells. A teen-ager, a dad, or even a bachelor wearing a sign saying TONIGHT I AM A MOTHER may call on you. They are asking support for this organization which now fights birth defects, and arthritis as well as the dreaded polio.

Some areas are still in need of marchers. If you can help, call Mrs. Mendel Planksky, city chairman for Daly City, at PL 5-6849 or Mrs. Edward S. Berry, assistant city chairman, at WY 2-0133.

Sweetheart Parties Planned By Mercy

The students of Mercy High School are anticipating their annual "Sweetheart Parties" with their fathers, which will be held this February.

The senior-junior dance will be on Tuesday, Feb. 15, and the sophomore-freshman on Friday, Feb. 16.

The parties will be held in both Barrett and Rist Halls, with entertainment and dancing. Refreshments will also be served.

The general chairman is Mrs. Daniel Gallagher, assisted by Mrs. Elio Bonuccelli, Mrs. John Creselia, Mrs. Catherine Sweetser, Mrs. Ralph McDonald and Mrs. John Fitzgerald.

The first increment is $1,630,811.

Three Council Positions Up For Grabs

Terms of office of three Daly City councilmen expire this year and a general municipal election to fill the vacancies will be held on April 10. Registration ends on Feb. 15.

Terms of Mayor Bob St. Clair and Councilmen Edward Dennis and Michael DeBernardi will expire.

The city clerk's office announces that candidates for the vacancies can obtain nomination papers at the city clerk's office until 12 noon on Feb. 15.

To run for the city council, candidates must acquire nomination papers and must have them signed by between five and ten registered voters in the city, and submitted then to the city clerk by Feb. 15.

Candidates must be registered voters of Daly City.

FRIENDSHIP GROUPS HELD AT THOS. EDISON

Friendship groups activities are now taking place in five widely separated areas of the Peninsula.

These clubs for children 6 to 8 and 9 to 11 are now being conducted in Daly City at the Thomas Edison School, every Thursday from 3:45 to 5:15 p.m. under the leadership of Charlotte Flecker. Mrs. Flecker also conducts the San Bruno Group which meets every Monday from 3:45 to 5:15 p.m. at the Decima Allen School.

The San Mateo group under the leadership of Karen Kelle meets every Monday from 3:30 to 5 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mizrahi, 1206 Annapolis Way.

The Redwood City group meets every Friday at 3:45 to 5:15 p.m. at the Roy Cloud School under the leadership of Patricia Getz.

The newest group will get under way Thursday, January 25 at 3:30 p.m. in the Buri Buri School, South San Francisco.

The planning committee is active in developing plans for additional groups in Belmont, San Carlos, Redwood City and other communities.

All of the groups enjoy a program of dancing, music, arts and crafts, trips, sports and games and story telling.

Parents interested in enrolling their children may obtain further information by calling any of the leaders or the Center office in San Carlos, LY 1-4438.

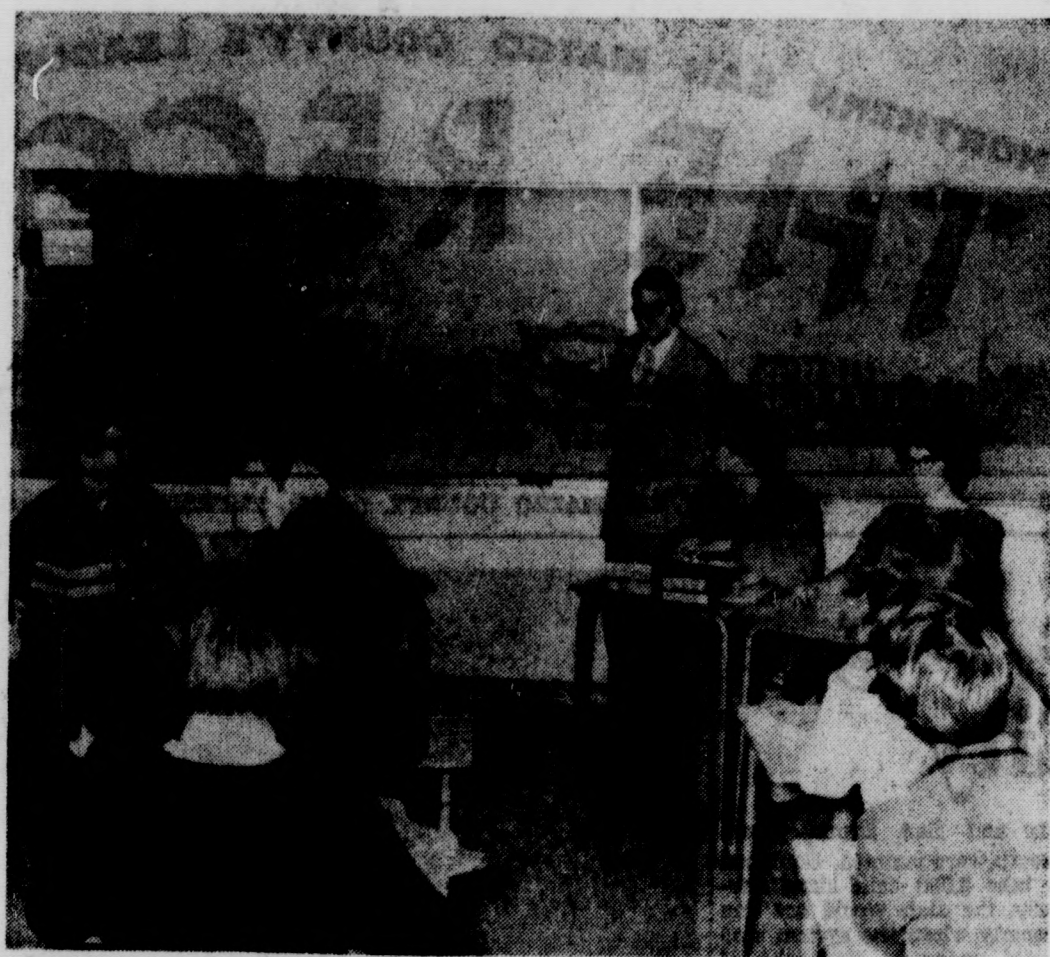

Pedestrian Struck By Municipal Bus

A San Francisco girl was injured Jan. 20 at Mission and San Jose avenues, Daly City when struck by a Muni Bus.

Admitted to Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco with leg and head injuries was Eileen DeLeon, 17, of 153 Shakespeare street, San Francisco.

She was walking across San Jose avenue when the bus, driven by Charles E. Stafford, 27, of 524 Central, San Francisco, struck her. Stafford was cited for failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian.

Westmoor Students Receive Advanced Liberal Arts Study

Tentacles extended, the hydra peered lopsidedly at the test-expectant students in Alvin Wolf's enriched U. S. history class. President Jackson had referred to the Bank of the United States as the "Hydra of Corruption," and the scientific description, was designed to aid students stymied by the test's demand for an interpretation of Jackson's statement.

Incredible creatures do not haunt Westmoor's enriched classes regularly. Rather, such features as panel discussions, extra reading material, more thought provoking essays, and more advanced texts distinguish the enriched classes.

Begun in the fall of 1959, the enriched program has attempted to offer a deeper and more meaningful education to students who possess extra ability.

"Prometheus Bound" and a paperback on Adolph Hitler extended the reading list of Paul Zimmerman's enriched World History class. Asian and European students from San Francisco State College round out students' introduction to foreign culture. More time expended upon ferreting out the psychological motives of the characters in "Julius Caesar," characterize Miss Jean Lory's enriched sophomore English class. John Steinbeck's "The Pearl," not normally required tenth grade reading matter, is part of the course. In the study of the American theater, students in Mrs. Doris Lindfor's enriched junior English group attend several stage productions, last year taking in Bert Lahr in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "J. B." and Raisin in the Sun.

Panel discussions, with students assuming the viewpoint of founding fathers, appear frequently in Mr. Wolf's first period U. S. History enriched class. Helping to clarify the positions of the debaters is a textbook originally intended for use in a college course.

Reaction of students who have come through the enriched program is overwhelmingly favorable. The teachers involved have reported that they have received letters from former students, expressing their appreciation. Comments such as "I felt as well prepared as students from the prep schools," and "The professor is covering the material just as you did," appear frequently.

California Highway patrolman Ed Belluomini said a car driven by George Culmer, 36, of 727 Alta Way, Mill Valley, went out of control about three fourths of a mile north of Manor Drive, crossed the divider stripe and struck the Smith car in the rear.

A third car, driven by George Neely, 41, of Pacifica, was also damaged in the collision.

A Great Britain doctor suggested the use of cow's milk as an emergency treatment for first and second degree burns. He recommends the immersion of the burned area in milk.

Three Held On Grand Theft Charges

One of the largest burglaries ever perpetrated in north San Mateo county was solved last week with the arrest of three men by Daly City, South San Francisco and San Francisco police.

Apprehended were Charles David Rodrick, 31, of 64 Shelbourne; William David Miller, 21, of 471 Winchester, Apt. 3, Daly City; and Harry Luther Ahrendt of San Francisco.

Rodrick and Ahrendt admitted the offense Jan. 19 after being picked up in San Francisco on another charge. Miller was arrested Jan. 20 by the South San Francisco police department by Officers Alan Klemme and David Casey and is now out on $1,050 bail.

Authorities of the South San Francisco police department reported the recovery of approximately $11,000 in electronic equipment and parts taken from the Raytheon company, 213 Grand avenue, South San Francisco.

Loot taken was a tape recorder, volt meters, testing equipment, hand radio sets, 2,400 sets of crystals worth $125 each, a dictaphone and hundreds of parts. All three men are former employees of the Raytheon company. Following termination of their employment with the company, Rodrick and Ahrendt opened a television and radio repair store in Pacifica which burned to the ground Aug. 6, 1961. They later rented a store on 24th street in San Francisco. It was here that the largest portion of the loot was stashed.

Rodrick and Miller are in the custody of the San Francisco police department on charges of grand theft. Miller will be arraigned Jan. 25 in municipal court, South San Francisco.

The funds for the resurfacing program come from revenues from the gas tax, and will be spent this year for the resurfacing of old Daly City roads all east of Junipero Serra boulevard. This amount is about double what has been spent for resurfacing in other years.

Brotherhood Week

President Kennedy has set the tone for Brotherhood Week which starts February 18 under the sponsorship of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, with a simple yet powerful statement: "Human brotherhood is not just a goal," he said. "It is a condition on which our way of life depends. The question for our time is not whether all men are brothers. That question has been answered by God who placed us on this earth together. The question is whether we have the strength and the will to make the brotherhood of man the guiding principle of our daily lives."

To carry out the presidential statement we must learn to treat others as we would have them treat us. And we must judge one neighbor on his individual merits, never blaming whole groups of people for the weaknesses of a few.

Brotherhood Week will be observed throughout the nation with special programs designed to emphasize the fact that national unity is more vitally needed today than ever before.

A Real Problem

"The police can't fight criminals and the public at the same time, but too often nowadays we have to. When it happens, it's the taxpayer who winds up footing the bill."

San Francisco Police Chief Thomas Cahill thus pinpoints what he calls "one of the real problems" in local law enforcement.

Item: A patrolman in the Richmond district of San Francisco spots a ruckus in a restaurant, moves in to collar the culprit, and finds he needs help. The restaurant owner refuses to phone for police reinforcements.

The bartender makes the call. While he does so, two men at the bar jump the officer and injure him. The original troublemaker gets away. The policeman is a hospital case — at the taxpayers' expense.

Chief Cahill cited the restaurant incident — "it is typical of what has been happening lately" — as pointing up the need for the police-citizen institutes.

"There has been a great change in the attitude of the people here," he said. "There is a growing disrespect for authority at all levels. It's particularly noticeable to the police because we catch the brunt of it in the manner I mentioned."

"A policeman in a tight spot should be able to look for help from bystanders. We don't even ask that much from people. All we ask is that they not interfere with him in the performance of his duty."

Fallout Shelters

Bomb, fallout and blast shelters may be constructed by counties, cities, school districts and other districts in California, was the ruling issued by Attorney General Stanley Mosk.

The cost of such shelters may be defrayed from general funds of counties and cities, or from general obligation bonds. School districts may also finance shelter construction from general tax funds and bond proceeds.

Furthermore, declares the opinion, public agencies may exceed statutory budget limitations in shelter construction under certain conditions.

School districts, the ruling states, may cooperate with other public entities in construction and maintenance of shelters.

Use of funds under the State School Building Aid Law and the State Project Area Construction Law for shelters would require clarifying legislation.

If dedicated for public use, public funds may be used on privately owned lands, providing the public entity maintains requisite control of the facility.

COUNTY DOINGS

by JACK WOOD

What else is new besides the weather and the Twist? Joseph B. Feder, Palo Alto chemical engineer, has been named to undertake the job of monitoring the small situation in East Palo Alto. His discerning nose will be appointed to monitor an odorous situation at the Carad Chemical Company's plant and investigate complaints from East Palo Alto residents.

The trial of Thomas J. Callan, Jr., and Sergio Gregoriev has been postponed for the third time — so as to give their attorneys more time to prepare more evidence.

They are charged with 104 counts of conspiracy to acquire property by forged deeds on tax delinquent lots, mostly in the Half Moon Bay area. The trial, formerly to begin December 6, was postponed to January 22, then last week postponed to February 26.

The American Association of School Administrators takes the position of a wait-and-see attitude toward fallout shelters for schools.

In a letter to the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees, the association states that: "Reliable information is lacking about the structure and nature of adequate facilities."

"Superintendents and boards are already being pressed to adopt policies, to initiate programs, to convert basements, to construct shelters."

"The hazards of radiation and fallout from a nuclear bomb threaten parents as well as children. To separate children from their parents in time of such a disaster is almost unthinkable."

"Providing fallout shelters should be a general public responsibility... and not that of the board of education."

"Until there is more evidence... your AASA executive committee advises that you not be stampeded into any form of frenzy of construction."

Girls from 18 to 28 are now being signed up for the Miss San Mateo Beauty Contest. The winner of this contest qualifies for the Miss California contest, to be held in Santa Clara in June.

Building is booming in the north county. South San Francisco has its share. The county will soon open the doors of its new $300,000 north county courthouse, to be located on Old Mission road.

The South San Francisco Boys' Club is nearing completion of its $300,000 structure at Orange Avenue and Memorial Drive. The center will serve 3,000 local boys and will officially open this spring.

Food For Thought

By the Daly City Ministerial Association

People are admired who show a zest for living. This means that they are energetic, interesting, enjoyable, and accomplishing good things. In a word, such people are "enthusiastic."

It is significant to note that the word "enthusiasm" comes from the Greek words "en theos" meaning "in God." The connotation of this is that God in a person's life is the true mainspring for enthusiasm. The Bible bears testimony to this fact in human experience. The Psalmist wrote: "Thou wilt show me the path of life; in Thy presence is fullness of joy." Jesus Christ said: "I came that they might have life, and have it more abundantly. Be of good cheer, I have overcome the world."

There is a poem that goes like this: "Some pray for sun and some for rain And some for both together; But I pray for sunshine in my heart And then forget the weather." This poem emphasizes that variable outward circumstances are not to be the main motivations for enthusiasm. Rather, the underlying mainspring of life is an inner conviction and love that steadies, interprets and directs the surface aspects of living.

Religious people believe that this underlying basis for lasting "enthusiasm" stems from the word connotes, that of being "in God." Christian people believe that this inner zest for living comes from being "in Christ." They believe that God sent Christ among men to communicate His inner presence in the Holy Spirit. Of this Jesus said: "The water I shall give him shall become in him a well of water springing up unto eternal life."

The purpose of the church is to foster and encourage this kind of enthusiasm through teaching, sharing and worship, the latter being distinguished by music, prayer, Scripture reading, the sacraments, and sermons. Being "in God" is not superficial and sad; rather it is sincere and enthusiastic! This is expressed in habits of noble purpose, moral character, and that genuine love of God and man expressed in unselfish service for Christ's sake. This kind of enthusiastic living can belong to those who seek it with God's help.

FIRE FACTS

This article is written by Daly City Firemen and is published in this newspaper with the purpose of keeping the public informed about their Fire Department.

During the past several months there has been a great deal of discussion regarding nuclear warfare.

At a recent Fire Service's National Civil Defense Staff and Command Course conducted in Battle Creek, Mich., the following comments were made by Chief Murray of San Francisco, Chief Klinger of Los Angeles, County, and former Chief Thomas of Hartford, Conn.

The object of the National Fire Staff Command course was to set up an organization to train people who could step into any area and take command of a mass fire defense.

The 57 men attending this course weren't concerned with learning how to operate fire-fighting apparatus, they knew. They were concerned with how it was going to be used on a mass scale necessary in the event of nuclear attacks.

We quote from the International Association of Fire Chiefs News Letter:

"We need a top fire coordinator at a national level, and fire coordinators at regional levels. We are pretty well set at the local and state level, but we get a little lost when we think higher than that." Federal recognition must be in the areas of standardization of equipment and training, in financial assistance to build up equipment reserves that could be moved to any area where they might be needed.

"We don't think that federal government fully realizes what is going to happen when it comes to fire following a nuclear attack. The fire department will be the first line of civilian defense."

The View From Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

What kind of badge is it from behind which we make our weekly observations? The Daly City police wear a seven-point star as their emblem of authority. In most of the nation, municipal police departments have long since taken to wearing shields of one type or another. The San Francisco Bay area municipal police departments are the last stronghold of the star, as worn by police.

It is possible to determine the type of policeman by reading his badge. Where the star is worn, the inscription thereon will clearly state whether the wearer is a police officer or a special policeman. Further identification is also possible. Special policemen wear a six-point star, whereas regular police officers wear a seven-point star.

A star, or shield, dates from the medieval days when men-at-arms fought with sword and battle axe. Such men, of necessity, carried shields with which to parry the killing strokes of an enemy, and thus protect himself while striking back at that enemy. Often, fighting men would form in groups under a prince or king, or some other leader. In order to identify themselves as one group, and in order to identify that group as belonging to the leader, the common fighting men represented the coat of arms and colors of the leader upon their shields.

Later, Napoleon Bonaparte devised medals for his soldiers. These afforded recognition for outstanding deeds on the part of the individual soldier, and would, presumably, instill in other soldiers the will to perform like deeds of valor. Because the medals were made of ribbon and metal, the soldiers wore them upon the left breast of the tunic, over the supposed location of the heart, and, theoretically, received further protection in battle. This system apparently worked, for Napoleon stated "Give me enough ribbon for the tunics of my soldiers, and I can conquer the world."

The seven point star, then, is emblematic of the authority of the policeman, or his badge of office, if you will. Former Chief Don Wood of the San Anselmo department, defined the seven points of the star as representing the cardinal requisites of a good officer, a good citizen, and a good member of the service.

The seven points of the star: BROTHERLY LOVE is best exemplified by the abiding faith of man in man.

TRUTH is the beacon light that has guided man through the ages, and truthfulness is a virtue to be highly cherished.

HONESTY is that trait of character for which no higher compliment can be paid than to say that a man is fair and candid, just, upright and honest.

INTEGRITY is a virtue more to be desired than wealth and riches.

LOYALTY is that concept of thought that makes us loyal to one another, loyal to our community, state and nation, and the high ideals and principles of our great American institutions.

JUSTICE must ever be tempered with mercy, governed and regulated by the principle of the Golden Rule; and lastly, SINCERITY in every word, thought, act and deed.

IN RESERVE...

Adolph Ricci has accrued some 600 hours on patrol and assignment with the department. Dolph is a field representative for the American Chicle Company. He and wife Louise have resided in Daly City for 7 1/2 years. During World War II, Ricci served five years as an infantry sergeant. He has been awarded the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart for combat service, which included campaigns at Attu-Kiska, Leyte, Kwajalein, and Okinawa.

In the past, Ricci has been captain of the San Mateo County Sheriff's Posse, which performed as a mounted parade unit, among other functions.

Mendel Plansky has served ten years in the police reserve and has worked 1,000 hours on departmental details. This journeyman painter was born in England, and has lived in Daly City for 53 years. Mendel was among the reserves who reported for duty during the 1957 earthquake emergency.

James N. Albera, a businessman in the repair and used car field, has been a member of the reserve for seven years, during which time he has accrued 900 hours on patrol. Jim is married and has two children, and he was also among those present for duty during the 1957 earthquake emergency service.

Questions and Answers

This is the fourth of five articles dealing with the Jefferson Union High School district's Feb. 6 tax election. All of the articles, following a Question and Answer form, are designed to bring to our readers in concise form, the important issues that the people of the high school district will be asked to vote upon.

Why is the tax election necessary?
When did the Jefferson Union High School district have its last operational tax?

Why does the High School district need more money?
How does the High School district's present general purpose tax rate compare with other San Mateo schools?

What increases — tax, cost per pupil, enrollments, etc., has the High School district experienced since the passage of the present $1.35 in 1947?

How does the High School district's educational costs compare with other High School districts?
Is the district attracting and retaining competent teachers?

How is it possible for a school district to have the lowest cost per A.D.A. and the second highest salary schedule?

Will the additional money derived from this tax election be used to build classrooms?
If the $2.00 general purpose tax rate is approved, will the trustees spend the full amount?

Today's article deals with the final five questions and answers that will be presented:
Does the High School district spend general fund money, in addition to bond funds and money received from the State of California, to build and equip its schools?

Answer: The district does not spend general fund money to build its schools. It does spend general fund money, in addition to State money, to adequately equip its schools. Examples: Library books, science equipment, outdoor educational facilities, maintenance and operational equipment, etc.

How large will each of the district's High Schools be when fully completed? Will additional schools be needed?

Answer: Each of the district's present High School facilities has been master-planned to accommodate at least 2,000 students (Westmoor, 2,200). A fifth high school site is needed, and with State funds will probably be purchased in the near future.

How does the High School district's educational program compare with other districts?

Answer: The quality of the educational program of the Jefferson Union High School district is excellent! Standardized tests (National Defense Education Act Research Project, 1961) revealed that our students equal or exceed both State and National norms! The record of the district's graduates in university or college has been outstanding! Industry has forwarded to the district many kind and flattering letters about former students! Last summer the district's faculty was awarded more advanced study scholarships than any other high school district in our area. Each of the district's schools meets the criteria that has been established for a sound "Comprehensive High School" program. A program designed to meet the needs of our students!

If I vote "yes," how much, per day and/or per year, will it cost each home owner?

Answer: $6.50 per year (1.8 cents per day) for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.
Examples: Home assessed at $2,000, $13 per year, 3 1/2 cents per day. Home assessed at $3,000, $19 per year, 5 1/2 cents per day. Home assessed at $4,000, $26 per year, 7 cents per day. Home assessed at $5,000, $32.50 per year, 9 cents per day.

What will happen if the Feb. 6 election fails?

Answer: The trustees have not decided on the action that would be necessary if the Feb. 6 election fails. It is inconceivable that the citizens of this district will turn down the modest tax request, inasmuch as this request comes from a taxing agency with the best tax record in the entire Bay Area! If the election fails, the trustees must balance 1962-63 expenditures with income! The high school program, the quality of which is known and recognized, will be drastically modified and curtailed.

Possible curtailment programs to be considered would be:

Drastically increase class size.

Fail to hire teachers needed to care for next year's increased enrollment.

Cut the present salaries of district employees — certificated (faculty) and classified (custodians, secretaries, etc.).

Eliminate all district transportation.

Cancel Civic Center agreements with Daly City and Pacifica, thereby depriving thousands of youngsters of using high school facilities for recreational purposes.

Leave unoccupied Oceana High, and the new classrooms at Jefferson and Westmoor.

Eliminate all extra curricular activities — sports, music, dramatic productions, etc.

Drastically curtail present operations and maintenance policies.

Bring to a halt present program of new textbook adoptions.

Something For Everyone

by Samuel Chandler

A letter from a patron of the Daly City Public Library asks why some of the most noted contemporaries write about peculiar people and sordid conditions.

I am sure he refers to Durrell, Miller, Hemingway, Lawrence and others.

One reason that these men deal with what seems to be sordid lies in their personal philosophies. In his way, each seeks to depict the elements of civilization that tend to destroy men. These things, of course, are sordid.

Miller writes: "I hope and believe that the whole civilized world will be wiped out in the next hundred years or so. I believe that man can exist, and in an infinitely better, larger way, without civilization." So his books show the worst results of civilization.

Lawrence's books are filled with his desire to reassert the natural man. So his characters seek fuller and freer use of their appetites and passions than their society will allow. Hemingway's theme seems to be that man is a doomed creature whose only virtue and only hope is to face the inevitable stoically.

All of them, as a famous critic observed recently, believe their task is to show the reader a condition that blights society and then to "hold his head while he vomits." If enough readers are moved to correct the condition described, these writers are successful.

Another reason may be inherent in literature itself. Most critics agree with Aristotle that a significant piece of literature must deal with characters who possess distinctive qualities of both character and thought and who pass through extraordinary circumstances. Hence, most authors deliberately choose "peculiar" people, who, however peculiar, are nevertheless human. Usually the author sees his main character as an essentially noble and moral individual with one flaw that he must conquer or be destroyed by it. Lawrence Durrell's Justine is a woman bothered by her own lusts. Ernest Hemingway's characters fight their own greed or cowardliness. Henry Miller's hero in "Tropic of Cancer" exiles himself to the lowest elements of Paris.

Surely it is wise for a reader to seek the author's message before judging a book as bad because of the ugly scenes depicted and the use of impolite words.

Brotherhood Week Observance To Be On February 25

The Ministerial Association of Daly City has completed plans for a Brotherhood Rally to take place on Sunday, Feb. 25, at the War Memorial Bldg.

Elected to serve on the Daly City committee for Brotherhood Week are Rabbi Solomon Shore, chairman, and the Reverends Herbert Tweedie, Harold Thompson and Paul Maltz.

The evening is planned for all faiths to participate. The idea behind the observance is to help all Americans to express solidarity in working for the ideals that have inspired our country.

Musical selections will be offered as well as noted personalities of the area. A special film will be shown.

Hostesses for the Oneg Shabbath will be Mrs. Morton Dobrow and Mrs. Paul May.

The traditional family worship services will begin at 8:30 p.m. at 67 Los Banos avenue, Daly City, under the leadership of Rabbi Solomon Shore, who is planning to speak on the Arabic situation in the Middle East in his sermon entitled "The Inner Struggle of the Arabic World."

Mrs. Widmeyer taught English and Dr. Widmeyer taught in Bible schools. For a year and a half they were in Sydney, Australia, in the Bible College of the Church of the Nazarene. New Lutheran Church To Open In Pacifica Pacifica's newest church building will open its doors to welcome residents of the city and its surrounding communities this Sunday, Jan. 28.

Members of Holy Cross Lutheran Church have set this date for the first service to be held in their new $150,000 edifice located on Seville drive between Linda Mar boulevard and Crespi drive.

First Worship Service

The congregation's members and friends will gather at the new church building at 10:30 a.m. to watch contractor Odd J. Olsen hand a key to Harry Steele, chairman of the church construction committee. Steele will unlock the door and the congregation will enter the building for their first worship service there. All residents of the community are invited to participate in the ceremonies.

Speaker at the morning service will be the Rev. Carl V. Tambert, D.D., of Los Angeles, president of the Pacific Southwest Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America. Holy Communion will be celebrated at this service.

At 3:30 p.m., dignitaries from churches throughout the Bay Area will join the congregation in a second service commemorating the building's completion. Speaker on this occasion will be Dr. William W. Klover, Sr., pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Santa Monica, and father of the pastor of Holy Cross, the Rev. William W. Klover, Jr. A reception will follow this service.

Members of the congregation declare that the new church building has been designed and constructed to take full advantage of "one of the most beautiful locations occupied by a church anywhere in America."

Sweeping View
Sited high in the Linda Mar hills, the building is laid out to derive the most from a sweeping view of the lower end of Pedro Valley, Pedro Point and the Pacific Ocean. Colors used in the building were chosen especially to blend with the hues of the ocean, the brilliant Pacifica skies and the eucalyptus-covered hills that surround Pedro Valley.

The new building houses a sanctuary seating 175 worshippers, space for 10 Sunday School classes, a social hall and church administration offices. The present structure is the first unit of a three-level worship, education and fellowship plant that will eventually be built by the congregation. Construction on the present building began last September. The building was designed by T. Norman Mansell, architectural consultant to the United Lutheran Church in America. Supervising the construction was Architect Enar Eric Holm of Burlingame.

M. P. BROWN PTA PLANS TO SELL ICE CREAM TO STUDENTS

Treats, taxes and thespians were on the agenda at the January meeting of the M. Pauline Brown PTA with action being taken on the first two items.

The parent and teacher group, after consideration and approval of a unit budget presented by Mrs. Milton Staub, voted to sell ice cream treats each Friday during the school lunch hour to raise funds for their organization.

Following a proposal by Mrs. Jerry Shain, ways and means chairman, it was decided that actual selling would be under the guidance of the room representative committee, headed by Mrs. Gus Scourkes.

News Notes Fernando Rivera School

Last Thursday, January 11, Mr. Luppino's pupils toured and studied the oil refinery plant of the Bayside Oil Corporation in San Carlos.

A major fact that the pupils learned was that the refinery is a re-refining oil plant. Re-refining of used oil is based on the fact that oil does not wear out. Oil is a mineral like copper and iron, and like these and other minerals will become dirty and contaminated. When these minerals are properly cleaned of impurities they are in every respect like the original material.

The basic steps of the motor oil re-refining process at San Carlos are: settling to remove solid particles; dehydration by heat to remove all moisture; distillation at 625 degrees Fahrenheit in the presence of activated clay removes volatile products, diluents, and restores color.

The pupils were quick to realize the tremendous conservation program that such re-refining plants are accomplishing. However, there are only 120 such plants in the United States, several of which are located in the Los Angeles area and one in Sacramento.

Some of the many users of re-refined oil are: The nation's railroads (about 90%), bus lines, airlines, and the U. S. Air Force.

John Gotelli, classroom student teacher, and Mrs. Kelly, room mother, accompanied the class and enjoyed the trip.

Each visitor was given a quart of motor oil, literature, a pencil, and a cordial invitation for another visit.

Fernando Rivera School The 5th and 6th grades in Room 12 of the Fernando Rivera School recently visited the San Mateo Junior Museum at Coyote Point in San Mateo.

Outdoor conservation was a major part of the lesson learned as the pupils toured the many nature exhibits and live animals.

Seashore life, habits of San Mateo County animals and local terrain was stressed by the museum instructor. A greater appreciation of nature study, and a better knowledge of native animals, land topography, and balance of nature were important relationships learned by the pupils.

John Gotelli, student teacher in Mr. Luppino's room, and Mrs. Kelly, room mother, accompanied the class.

Boater Drowns As DC Partner Rescue Fails

William Brothers, a 49-year-old San Francisco man, was swept from the deck of his 46-foot fishing boat, Colonial, on Sunday, and his Daly City partner, William L. Mefford, 53 Grandview avenue, was unable to maneuver the boat in high seas in time to rescue him.

Brothers, a partner with Mefford in ownership of the boat, apparently fell overboard about 5 p.m. about a quarter of a mile from Point San Pablo in Contra Costa County. Mefford made several passes in an attempt to haul the victim aboard, and last saw Brothers face down in the choppy four to five foot swells.

The Coast Guard reported that a distress signal went out and a 40-foot rescue boat was dispatched to the rescue. A subsequent three-hour search failed to find any trace of the victim. The partners had been moving the boat to Richardson Bay after a series of thefts at its slip in Hermit Slough.

One Hurt In Car-Truck Mishap

Traffic was tied up about two hours Thursday evening, Jan. 18 at the intersection of San Jose avenue and Shakespear street in Daly City following a car-truck collision in which one man was hurt.

Treated at Junipero Serra Hospital for back injuries was Earl P. Paige, 42, an employee of Acme Fast Freight Co., 110 Berra street.

Officers said Paige was ejected from his truck after his vehicle and a car driven by used car dealer John Topolos, 55, of 100 Shawnee street, San Francisco, collided as the truck pulled onto San Jose from Shakespear.

Topolos said he was blinded by headlights and Paige said he didn't see the other car. No citation was issued.

Westmoor Student Is From Lebanon

by RANDY MARCUS

In 1959, a young girl moved to America from her home in Lebanon, with her family. Henriette Bahou is now a Sophomore at Westmoor High School, and though she says that this is a nice country, she admits to being homesick for Lebanon.

Her life here is different in many ways. For example, she is not used to attending a co-educational school. And in her country the students do not change classrooms for different subjects, but the teachers do.

A student usually goes to the same school for twelve years. However, after the seventh grade all students are required to take a government exam which they must pass before continuing to the next grade.

There are many colleges and universities in Lebanon, including the American University in Beirut.

Henriette plans to attend college when she graduates from high school, but she has not decided on the field of study.

The country of Lebanon has been an independent republic since 1944. It was under the French mandate from 1920 to 1944.

HENRIETTE BAHOU Student from Lebanon

Arabic and French are the languages most common in the country, but Henriette also learned English grammar in school there. Her family speak Arabic in their home as they don't want the next generation of the family to grow up without learning the language of their homeland.

Though Lebanon is an Arab country its population is almost evenly divided between Christians and Moslems.

Lebanon is situated at the eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea, and bordered by Syria and Palestine. Its climate is temperate and its location is such that for more than 4,000 years it has been a trade center between Asia and Europe.

The city of Saidra or Sidon was an ancient Phoenician seaport. However, Beirut, where Henriette and her family lived, is the capital, also the largest city and seaport. Though this is a thoroughly modern in most respects, Henriette claims the traffic problem is much worse in Beirut than it is here because of the older narrow streets.

In Beirut, according to Henriette, most of the buildings are made of marble or other building stone which is one of the country's important natural resources.

Because of this the Bahou family have never had to fear fire before, and the wooden framed houses of this country have given them cause for worry. The famous "Cedars of Lebanon" were at one time a prime source of lumber, but the few remaining are now a tourist attraction.

Though Lebanon is an Arab country, the population is mostly Christian and Moslem. These religious groups are also the

Sports Show Will Feature Huge Cruiser

The largest luxury cruiser to be exhibited at any boat show in the world this year, a 50-ft. Stephens with a price tag of $100,000, will be the flagship of the 18th Annual San Francisco National Sports & Boat Show at the Cow Palace, February 2 through 11.

The size of the new queen barely allows her to slip through the vast loading doors of the Cow Palace, even with her flying bridge removed. The 50-footer can accommodate eight people. The galley is equipped with a four-burner electric stove, with oven, broiler and overhead range hood.

An auxiliary Diesel 110-volt generator provides current for the Stephens and permits use of standard household appliances, while propulsion is provided by two 270 shaft horsepower General Motors Diesels. She has a top speed of 23 miles per hour.

Everything from luxury cruisers and sailboats to the smallest outboards, plus all the newest products for fishermen, hunters, campers and vacation seekers will be exhibited in the great outdoor exposition, which anticipates an attendance of over 300,000.

Weekend hours are 2 to 11 p.m.; Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., and Sundays from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

FEB. 10 EVENT PLANNED BY W. WILSON PTA

The Woodrow Wilson PTA voted at its January 16 meeting to support the February 6 high school tax election. Mr. Mongan, principal of Jefferson High School, spoke on the necessity for concern in order to insure adequate teaching standards for the district.

We are sure that parents and teachers alike benefited from the talk given by guest speaker Don Sagnor, psychologist for the Jefferson Elementary School District.

He stressed the need for care in diagnosing the seriously disturbed child at an early age, and the differences in treatment and care among the various degrees of emotional ills.

Mrs. F. Moss, bazaar chairman, reminded the group of the Feb. 10 event. The indoor event will run from 2 p.m. until 9 p.m., and will include something for every member of the family — movies, booths, hot dogs, dinners, and soft drinks.

The nominating committee elected to choose candidates for office included the Mrs. R. Mangano, Edw. Steele, Pedroni, F. Moss, R. Warner, A. Selmi.

Mrs. Hahn, principal, and Mrs. O. Luster, president, attended the 17th District annual dinner of the Parent Teachers Association as representatives of the school. Robert Jackson, Western manager of public relations for General Electric Company, was the guest speaker at the January 18 event held in San Mateo.

Woodrow Wilson PTA will commemorate Founder's Day on its next regularly scheduled meeting, February 20.

Third Graders Visit S.F. Junior Museum

The San Francisco Junior Museum was host recently to an eager group of third-grade children from Westlake School who visited the extensive display of authentic Indian dolls and baskets.

The children, led by their teacher, Margaret Beber, were particularly fascinated by the Kachina dolls. Mr. Conragan, museum guide, gave an interesting talk on the nature of the dolls.

Another museum aide, Miss Anido, showed the class many of the Indian baskets they had been studying about in their classroom. The youngsters were given an opportunity to handle the baskets and even to model a "hat basket."

Accompanying the class were Mrs. Seyranian, Mrs. Riba and Miss Darrow, a student teacher.

Two officers, two additional patrolmen who arrived to assist and two ambulance attendants subdued Draper, after he assertedly took a swing at an officer and ambulance attendants.

Cub Pack 84 Father-Son Banquet Slated

A rousing Pack meeting to start the new year's activities met with enthusiastic response from parents and boys of Cub Pack 84. A get acquainted game of "Hello-Bingo" proved an excellent ice breaker, and John Williams, new Cubmaster, took this opportunity to introduce the new pack committee.

The flag ceremony was presented by Den 9, under the leadership of Mrs. Le Roy Larsen, who will also be counseling den mother for the coming year.

Uniform inspection of the entire pack was conducted, and Den 10 was awarded a perfect score.

Awards were given as follows: Den 5: Steven Andrade, bear; Gerald Hess, two silver arrows; Den 7: Richard Nowatzki, gold arrow; Clark Elliott, denner stripes; Mike Gernes, asst. denner stripes; Den 8: Larry Anderson, wolf and gold arrow; Mike Brandt, wolf, gold arrow and silver arrow; Dennis Haxton, wolf gold arrow, two silver arrows, and asst. denner stripes; Jack Jacobs, wolf, gold arrow, and denner stripes; Den 9: Dennis Dumont, silver arrow; Nels Larsen, silver arrow.

Plans are well under way for the father-son banquet at the Serra Bowl, to be held as February's pack meeting. It is hoped to have the new den organized by that time, and interested parents are urged to contact Louis Manis, PL 5-3960.

Seacliff Church World Service Day Plans Set

Women of the Seacliff Community Church (EUB), are making extensive plans to present a program of interest and significance this Sunday, Jan. 28, which is observed as World Service Day.

Mrs. Del Diibeck, president of the Women's Society of World Service, has received final verification that John Dennis, present director of broadcasting at the University of Pacific in Stockton, and formerly in missionary service in Puerto Rico, will be featured speaker.

Dennis, who holds both masters (AM) and doctors (PhD) degrees from the University of Michigan, has spent a considerable time in Puerto Rico, where his special missionary training from the Evangelical Theological Seminary was advantageous in furthering and expanding the concept of World Service in the mission field.

There are many churches that would like to have a missionary guest speaker on this special day, but there are only a few on "furlough," so this has been an opportunity and a challenge to the women of the congregation to make this an outstanding occasion.

The theme of this year's World Service Day is "Fellow Workmen for God" and will stress the importance of all persons laboring together for the work of the ministry—to ward the unreached, the unfortunate, the young and the aging. Primarily the work of missionaries in the field, of no less importance are the needs of church leaders to meet human needs in centers of growing population and parallel projects of Christian extension and service at home.

Special music is being planned with Mrs. Angela Infusino

Vista Mar Children Receive New Tables

With the shipment of cafeteria tables just before the holidays to Vista Mar, students of fourth and fifth grades are enjoying lunch in the multi-purpose room. Due to the large number of students, approximately 325, who bring lunch to school, facilities are inadequate to house all these children in the multi-purpose room. The privilege, therefore, was afforded fourth and fifth graders who have attended Vista Mar and will only be in the building for a year or two more.

Prior to this new experience of dining as a group, standards of behavior, consideration for others, and specific policies were discussed with all groups, and a definite assignment at a table was given children who live too great a distance from the school or whose parents work and are, therefore, unable to avail themselves of a recommended hot lunch.

Teacher supervision is given these students, and when they leave the room tables and floors are unusually clean. Paper towels are used as place mats for each child. Upon dismissal, students deposit their lunch pails, etc., in a box, and their papers in receptacles provided. Monitors then return these boxes to the classroom, after the groups pass to the yard for noon recess.

Student body representatives from fourth and fifth grades have a committee which is now working on the writing, editing and publishing the established behavior patterns to distribute to students who are now enjoying this experience of lunching in the multi-purpose room.

March of Dimes Mothers Hold Key In Fight Against Crippling Disease

Some two million Marching Mothers, wearing the symbolic Golden Key of Hope, will appear on America's doorsteps toward the end of January asking support for the 1962 New March of Dimes fight against crippling birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Why do these women brave winter weather to ask their neighbors for funds?

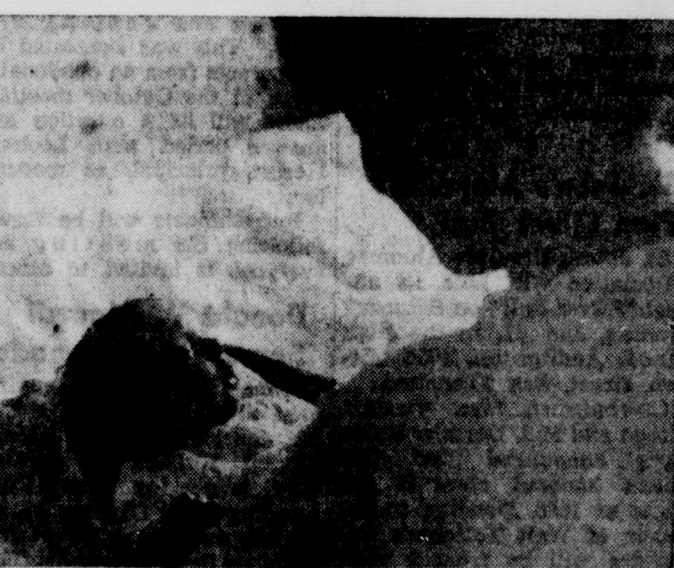

Mrs. Phyllis Sublett of Evansville, Ind., does it because experience with her fourth child, three-year-old Stevie, who was born with a birth defect, has shown her the need to have medical help more readily available in the community when an imperfect child is born.

"Stevie was born with an open spine and water on the brain in 1958. The year The National Foundation expanded its program to include birth defects," says Mrs. Sublett. "I had never heard of either condition. Since then I have learned that these malformations, and hundreds of other birth defects, afflict one out of every 16 babies born in this country each year.

"These children need help, their parents need to know where to find the specialists who can give prompt and effective treatment. I know now that the March of Dimes supports work in clinics to improve treatment, in laboratories to find the causes, and is building a network of diagnostic and treatment centers to make new knowledge available to everyone, not just those fortunate enough to live close to great medical institutions.

"The March of Dimes already supports nearly 50 centers throughout the country, and many more are being planned. That's why I'm in the Mothers' March—to let people know this help and hope exists. I want to ask their support so the 250,000 American babies born each year with birth defects need not go through life hopelessly disabled for lack of proper treatment."

In Denton, Tex., Mrs. Mona Grisham says, "Until our lit-

"IS MY BABY ALL RIGHT?"—More than 250,000 mothers of babies born with birth defects in the U. S. each year hear a heartbreaking reply to this question. Marching mothers will seek public support late in January for March of Dimes research and patient aid to control crippling birth defects and rheumatoid arthritis, just as polio has been controlled.

the Sondra developed juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, I'd always thought arthritis was something you got when you reached old age. Now I know that thousands of children are stricken with it each year. It can twist and cripple little bodies with permanent disability if it's not caught and treated in time.

"I've seen the wonders accomplished at Arthritis Clinical Study Center at Parkland Hospital in Dallas supported by the March of Dimes, and I know that doctors in the laboratory there and elsewhere are working hard to find out what causes arthritis and how it can be prevented or cured. I'm a Marching Mother because I know firsthand how important this work is."

Marching Mothers across the nation have similar reasons. Mrs. George Dibben of Kansas City, who lost a child born with a birth defect, marched actively until the past year. But then her own arthritis forced her to "retire" to a quieter paperwork and records keeping job for the Mothers' March.

O'Connell, South San Francisco manager of Wells Fargo American Trust Company; Contractor William Harris of Harris Construction, and the owner, Amos F. Larson.

Two Boys Hurt In Pedestrian Auto Mishaps

Two children were hurt Jan. 17 in Daly City when they ran into moving automobiles. At 8:40 a.m., five-year-old John Belt of 124 Mission Bell Motel, ran off a sidewalk at Hillside boulevard and Gambetta street and into the right side of the front bumper of a car driven by Lois M. Moore, 50, 48 Frankfort street, Daly City. The boy was taken to Junipero Serra Hospital. No injuries were disclosed.

And at 5:18 p.m., Annadell L. Caton, 32, of 65 Woodside drive, an employee of Paul's Florist, Colma, swerved too late to miss three-year-old Matthew Styler, 378 Higate drive, who walked into the side of her car on Higate drive.

The youth was knocked to the ground and received a laceration of the mouth and bruised forehead. No citation was issued. The boy was taken to a private doctor.

'Arsenal' Goes Back To Owner

Daly City police thought for sure that thieves had stolen an arsenal on wheels last week when Pat Harrison, 274 Irvington street, reported his car stolen.

In the auto were Harrison's personal firearms, including a U.S. Army .30 caliber M-1 Garand, 12-gauge double barreled shotgun, 15-shot .22 caliber rifle and nine-shot .22 caliber revolver.

Police thought if the guns got into the hands of the wrong persons they could be used for strong arm robberies, holdups and the like.

But then, Harrison called the police station the next day and said the search was off. He had found his car. A neighbor had borrowed it the night before and brought it back.

Variety Show For St. Finn Barr's

The third annual variety show (professional old timers) will be held at St. Finn Barr's, Hearts and Edna streets off Monterey boulevard, on Saturday, Feb. 10, at 8 p.m. $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children.

All proceeds will benefit the new school and faculty house now under construction.

"But to achieve the morality which does not deviate from the good way regardless of the sacrifices involved, we must find our strength in God. We do need more good sermons on sin from our pulpits."

District President Mrs. Forest Cunningham expressed appreciation to Vice-President Mrs. L. E. Engleman, who was in charge of the program, as well as to the entire dinner committee and all others for their wholehearted cooperation in making the annual event a high success.

Fireman Hurt At Car-House Mishap Scene

Hoseman James Dresser of the Daly City fire department received a nasty cut on his cheek Jan. 19 at the scene of an auto-house accident at 75 Citrus avenue.

Dresser was attempting to detach an apartment house garage door struck by a car driven by Raymond A. Rajeski, 751 Niantic avenue, when a spring came loose, throwing a door spring arm into his face. He was treated at Junipero Serra Hospital.

The auto-house accident occurred when the car, driven by Rajeski, went into a slide when turning. The driver attempted to straighten out the vehicle and ran up over the sidewalk and struck the building, an apartment house owned by Joe Martorana. A car in the garage was pushed forward and struck the rear garage wall, police reported.

GE EXECUTIVE AIRS "MORAL FAILURES" AT 17th CCPT DISTRICT DINNER

by SALLY STEIN

Unethical practices in the American free market business system are the fault of individuals, not of the system itself, the 17th District California Congress of Parents and Teachers were told last Thursday at its 8th annual banquet, Elks Club, San Mateo.

In a speech entitled "The Serpent in Some Sermons on Sin," Robert W. Jackson, Western Region Public Relations Manager of General Electric Company, attacked the critics of "moral decay" who blame unethical conduct in business on the profit motives of the free enterprise system rather than on the imprefection of individuals.

"The American business system based on the popular will of free markets is inherently ethical and moral and encourages social as well as individual justice," he said. "The moral failures which undoubtedly exist in profusion grow out of the shortcomings of men, who under other social and economic systems, would create even greater havoc among their fellow men."

Honesty and justice are an intrinsic part of smart business operation because "it not only pays to be honest, it even pays to be decent." No business can survive unless it has the good-will of the people with whom it deals.

"Persuasion — not power or dictation — is the characteristic relationship in business and practically all social relations in America today," he said. "To achieve our ends in a free society, we must be able to convince people that what we want them to do for us is also good for them. In order to persuade free men I must deal with them ethically. What is even more important: I must have a good reputation based upon a substantial record of ethical dealings, past and present."

Jackson observed that in this respect the behavior of the corporation often differs from the behavior of the individual. "The goals of an individual," he said, "are much more short range and therefore more subject to the temptations of a quick advantage through unethical practices."

Unlike the corporation, he continued, the individual may find it difficult to do the "right thing" when this requires some personal sacrifice. The solution lies in strengthening individual conscience in all social relationships.

"Much more is needed at the level of human conscience," he concluded, "if we are to come closer to that goal of human achievement toward which civilization strives. The pragmatic approach to morality does create conditioned reflexes of good behavior which are, after all, conscience."

It's News To Vets

New Social Security legislation passed by the 87th Congress increasing minimum Social Security payments and permitting application for Social Security payments at age 62 may affect veterans pensions. San Mateo County Veterans' Service Officer Floyd D. Granger stated this week.

Veterans receiving pensions who are approaching age 62 should check with their service officer to determine whether it will be to their advantage to file early application for Social Security.

"Public Law 87-64, amending Section 202 of the Social Security Act, permits filing for Social Security at age 62, and becoming eligible for 80 per cent of the amount they would draw at age 65," Granger stated.

"At 63, an applicant may draw 86 2/3 per cent of the full payment, and at 64, 93 1/2 per cent."

"However, a word of caution must be said in regard to this benefit. Veterans should check with their service officer to learn the effect of the earlier payment of Social Security benefits on their pension rights.

"Social Security payments must be reported as income for purposes of determining Veterans Administration pensions after they have received an amount equal to their contribution to the program."

The service officer pointed out that in some cases, a veteran could lose his VA pension by waiting to age 65 to file for Social Security because the larger Social Security payment would give him excessive income, whereas filing at an earlier age for the lesser amount would protect pension rights. No portion of Social Security benefits may be waived to protect pension rights, but must be reported as income for pension purposes.

It was also pointed out that the same law increased minimum Social Security payments from $33 to $40. Pensioners were warned to check with the service officer regarding effect of this increase on VA pensions.

Seat Belts Will Save Lives

Only 2,000,000 of America's 58,000,000 car owners have seat belts in their automobiles. And too few of those with belts actually use them.

This startling information, a fact despite intense efforts of safety officials to induce U. S. motorists to protect themselves, is reported in the winter issue of Discovery, the magazine of the new Allstate Motor Club.

In an article in Discovery entitled "Saved by the Belt," Richard T. Griffin punches holes in the favorite arguments of people who oppose seat belts. For example:

Complaint: Seat belts are too much trouble. Reply: It takes less time to fasten a seat belt than it does to put the key in the ignition and start the engine. To release the belt takes less than one second, which is three or four seconds shorter than it takes to put out a cigarette.

Complaint: A motorist can be trapped by a seat belt if his car catches fire or is under water. Reply: A motorist tied down by a seat belt has a better chance to remain conscious since his seat belt will keep him from being tossed about in his car. He can release himself instantly at any time.

Complaint: You're safer if thrown clear of a car in a smashup. Reply: Without a seat belt you're five times more likely to suffer a serious injury than a person kept inside a car, according to Cornell University's crash injury team.

Complaint: Wearing seat belts in a soft-top convertible is useless. Reply: The odds still are with the belted driver since roll-overs account for only one-fifth of all fatal accidents. Belts, thus, favor the person in soft-top convertibles in four of five accidents that would prove fatal.

Complaint: Seat belts cause abdominal injuries. Reply: If you don't wear a seat belt the chances of suffering dangerous injuries to the lower torso in an accident are 1 in 40. The odds are increased in your favor to 1 in 250 if you wear a belt.

Plan For Civic Ctr.

Pacificans have united to provide funds for a community building or civic auditorium. Because of the lack of such a building, all public functions as well as large club activities are compelled to go outside of the city to find suitable accommodations.

The Pacifica City Council appointed Mrs. Joseph (Jean) Fassler as chairman of a committee and twenty-eight clubs and organizations sent representatives to meet with her. They decided to hold a grand ball to be known as a "Sweetheart's Ball," on Saturday, February 10.

Andrew Oddstad donated the use of a building in the new shopping center he is building in Sharp Park, to be known as Eureka Square. Bob Wellman's five piece orchestra was secured, as well as three awards to be made.

Donations of $5 per couple will be asked. All money received will be placed in a special fund to be used as the start of a community building fund. Dancing will start at 9 p.m. and there will be a Grand March at 10 p.m. Names of the young ladies who will assist Mrs. Calhan, hostess of the evening, will be announced at the final committee meeting to be held Tuesday, February 6, at 7:45 p.m. at the Pacifica City Hall.

Some of the functions to be performed by the different assisting organizations are: entertaining, Mizpah Fellowship; decorating, Art Guild and Linda Mar TOPS; lighting, Native Sons; finances, Ocean Park Manor Improvement Club; ticket sales, Pacifica Federated Women's Club, Little League Aux. and Teacher's Association; seating, Coastside Masonic Lodge and Sea Bowl; posters, Art Guild and Del Mar O.E.S.; publicity, Manor Village Improvement Club; hostesses, Pacifica Fuchsia Society; floor, Seaside; check room, University women; other organizations are each doing their bit to help promote this united effort that a place may be provided for public functions for the community.

Arrest DC Man For Belting Sheriff's Sgt.

A Daly City man was arrested by the sheriff's office on Tuesday when he struck a sergeant in the face as he served a court order repossessing the man's mother's stove.

Arrested was William D. Dupree, 18, 337 Knowles Avenue, unemployed, Sheriff's Sgt. Jack McMillis had gone to the residence with the court order and was met at the door by Dupree, who refused him entrance.

The deputy then called Daly City police to assist him in gaining admittance.

While awaiting police officers' arrival, Dupree struck what McMillis thought to be a shotgun through a peephole in the door, and threatened to kill him.

When Daly City Police Sgt. Henry Sundermann responded with other officers, and later Lieut. David Hansen, Dupree still would not open the door. Entrance was finally gained through the rear door, at which time Dupree struck McMillis without warning, inflicting cuts around the mouth.

Dupree was subdued by Daly City officers and handcuffed. He was arrested by the sheriff's deputies.

Officers were unable to locate a shotgun in the house. Dupree's six-year-old sister was taken into protective custody because no one else was in the home.

Dupree's mother, Mrs. Gertrude King, owner of the house, was later notified of the events.

Said property

The Sport Scene

By JIM GOLDSBOROUGH

The Rivals —

Outside it was a deluge. The rain had been blowing all day, getting tangled up in the wind and coming at you horizontally.

Inside the gym it must have been 80 degrees. Raincoats were taken off and draped dripping over the front benches until the gym began to fill and they were stuffed still wet between people.

The big plate glass windows looking north onto the Westmoor quad were steamed, and people inside had rubbed holes in the steam for those outside to see, and all the holes had faces in them.

The preliminary game between Westmoor and Jefferson was almost over. It had been a close game, but now with about three minutes to go Westmoor had pulled away by five points, a good lead but not enough so anybody got dejected and stopped screaming. It was too loud to even hear the referee blowing the fouls.

The game ended. Westmoor had won and everybody shut-up and waited for the main event.

The two varsity teams came on the court, went to different ends, and each forming two lines began lay-ups. They looked about twice as large as the B teams. And Westmoor looked about twice as large as Jefferson.

Each of these teams uses the Westmoor gym for home games. The result is that when they meet each other, instead of having a home team and a visitor, with all for one, and none for the other, each team is equally represented with fathers, mothers, banners, bands, cheers, tears, and tumult.

On one side banners beamed with RULE THE RAMS, and REAP THE SHEEP. The other side retorted with the more homely SCALP THE INDIANS, and BEAT JEFF.

When the teams were through warming up, the ten starters went to center court, the ball was tipped and Jeff got the ball. The Indians got off to a good start. They got their shots in. They got fouled and sunk the free throws. They got off to a 10-6 lead, and held it at 10-8 at the quarter.

It was the Rams in the second quarter. The rebounds that Don Boden got in the first period went to Jim Lucke, Mike Daniels and Gary Allard in the second frame. Harry Brown hit on two jump shots, Lucke was dropping them in from the free throw line, and Daniels was hitting under the basket.

At the half Westmoor led 26-17.

I had a chance to look around the gym at half-time, and it looks like a good one. It is small enough to be almost intimate, yet evidently is large enough because there were empty seats even for this all Daly City game. The gym has a p.a. system, but it wasn't used. And there were no programs printed. The only way I had of identifying the players was to latch on to a couple of kids that knew them. But even these kids didn't know everybody on the team, so some of the players went unknown.

Why the p.a. system wasn't used I don't know. Someone at Westmoor is lazy.

Ah, the halftimes! The boys may get the halves, but the dollies get the halftimes.

As the girls from Westmoor came out in their little short green ice-skating outfits, a great gloom had settled over the Jefferson side. It was going to be a hard audience to please.

But they pleased them. The sun melted the ice.

And then came the Westmoor pom-pom girls, and then the cheerleaders from Jefferson to dance to the Westmoor band. Why anybody leaves during the half for that cigarette, is beyond me. The way the game was to go in the second half, the time to leave was after the halftime show.

You'd pay 7000 francs in Paris to watch the can-can, and can watch the same thing—less talented, but infinitely more inspired—right here. It's just that you've never been told before.

Then the cheerleaders switched sides to lead the yells for the other school. I heard a big "E" from the Westmoor side, then I heard a big "E" from the Jefferson side. I wondered what they were going to spell.

Evidently so did the cheerleaders, because the two head leaders quickly looked over to each other, and ran to the center to discuss their crossed signals.

They were fortunately saved by the appearance of the teams back on the floor.

For Jefferson the third period was very, very sad. They almost managed to get no points during the period, but finally ended up with three.

In fact, the only force that showed at all for the Indians was Mike Orlich, who alternately grimaced, writhed, implored, wheedled, shouted, wept and cajoled his faltering tribe.

The big sashem called playmaker Wayne Stoller over to his side and told him for gosh sakes to pass the ball to right forward Sibley, who Westmoor seemed to have forgotten about. In went Haanen to do that, and did it twice, and then forgot and started shooting long ones from the outside.

Westmoor outscored Jefferson, 14-3, in the third period, the Rams' most impressive period. They got almost all the rebounds, and Lucke and Daniels were deadly under the basket. Westmoor's a poised team, nonchalant and evidently fully expecting to win. Against Jefferson they fully should have won.

I can see now why the Rams in their first five games built up first half leads and then faltered. Early in the game, when you're still fencing for position, a calm efficient approach should always get you off well. But towards the end of a game when things get close, and seconds get short, the quiet talent of a team like Westmoor could be overbalanced by the fired-up adrenaline Putsch of a more skittery mob.

The third period finished the game as a contest, but it might have been different.

During the period Jefferson started to take long shots. And when you can't hit on long shots, as Jeff can't, you don't take long shots, you drive. You drive up there closer where things are easier and even if you don't hit you will get fouled. That's what Westmoor was doing — driving and getting fouled and sinking the free throws.

But the funny thing is that everybody thinks he can hit a long shot.

The final score was 56-32. It was a colorful game between these two rivals. The Westmoor side had much more to yell about, but Jefferson was proud and tried to match each yell. All the yells from the Jefferson side were girls' voices, as if the femmes had more pride.

I liked the way it ended. Don Boden hit a 50 footer from mid court as the buzzer sounded. He was fouled and got a free throw after the game. He dropped it in for a three-point play.

That was as many points as the whole team got in the entire third period and though long shots certainly aren't the answer for Jeff — perhaps playing like every second was the last would do it.

League manager Primo Liberatori has announced an added feature for the Friday Night Jackpot Sweepers in the form of bonus prizes for five and six consecutive strikes during the three-game match play preceding the Jackpot Rolloff. The bonus takes the form of $5 cash for five in a row and a vacation in Vegas for six in a row. Also, the present jackpot will be frozen at the present amount of $530.80 and a secondary jackpot will be started. Under this new arrangement, the weekly affair will be limited to 58 bowlers and will start at 7 o'clock every Friday evening.

Mingo Baccio made a great comeback to once again become the Bowler of the Week with a 624 series on games of 230-201-193, beating Fred Von Hussen for the honor by one pin as Fred shot games of 221-183-219. Shooting with Mingo in the 825 Scratch League and registering exceptional scores were Allan Steinberg and Dick Taams with 233 and Joe Mitchell with 232.

The past weekend found the ladies converting splits from the simple to the most difficult type. Joyce Erlwin and Kathleen Mahoney of the Holy Rollers both picked up the 5-8-10, which is no easy feat. Ellis MacCleary in the St. Emydius League converted the 4-9, while Rose Rain in the same league put away the very difficult 6-7-10. The Tea Timers League found many of the tough splits being converted handily as Gari Snyder made the 5-7, Emily Drago the 6-7, Estelle Marenstein the 5-8-10, Millie Belli the 5-7, Thelma Anderson the 3-7-10 and Melva Rodriguez the 2-7. In the YWCA League, Gerry Klotz converted the 2-7-10 and Lorraine Allen the 3-8-10. The Morning Glory League contributed its share of "converters" with Connie Marsh the 4-5-7, Arlene Williams the 4-5-7, Bea Themis the 5-7, Jean Saptom the 7-9, and Alice Dodd the 6-7-10.

Next Saturday night at 10 o'clock will find a large group of Westlake bowlers at San Francisco's Marina Bowl participating in the Annual Guardsmen's Tournament for the benefit of needy boys of San Francisco. The squad is limited to 32 and Primo and Al Stagnaro have already accepted many registrations for those wishing to participate.

Rich Brewer was back on the beam as he led the Daly City Employees' League with a 612 series on games of 230-211-171, while another 600 shooter was Bill Dillon in the 775 Scratch League, who posted a 615 on two 209 games and a 197 effort, missing a terrific triplicate by only 12 pins.

The Second Annual Westlake Handicap Doubles Tournament is off to a strictly feminine start as Dottie Tener and Phyllis Winter took an early lead with a 1,622 total.

In second place upholding the honor of the men was the team of Bert Heineman and Ernie Anselmo. The Annual Tournament, which runs until March 4, has over $2,000 in guaranteed prizes and once again has the Optional Singles feature.

There are many special prizes this year for high games and series for both men and women as well as mixed teams. House San Francisco Bowling Association representatives Al Stagnaro and Joe Maurino have announced that the closing date for entries in the San Francisco City Bowling Tournament has been extended for two weeks. In addition, both Al and Joe will be on hand to assist teams and individuals in completing the forms for both the team event and doubles and singles.

There is a new high series in the Morning Glories League now that treasurer Dody Sanguinetti bowled games of 167-173-205 for a 545 total.

Rita Albano was the leader in the newly-formed instruction league from the St. Monica's Mothers' Club as she rolled a high game of 164 and series of 348. This group is expanding and it is expected that during the summer months there will be eight teams.

Junior coach Dick Truesdell has made arrangements for a series of home and home match games with junior bowlers from Saratoga Bowl. The first meeting will be next month with bus transportation being arranged for the bowlers and their parents. The members of the six teams will be announced next Saturday. The return matches will be held at Westlake in March.

Social events on the Westlake Bowl calendar include the monthly YWCA Fashion Show Luncheon on February 1, which this month will include bridge and canasta, and a Valentine No-Tap Tournament and Dance on the evening of February 10.

Daly City Car Entered In Roadster Show

A sleek semi-custom hardtop today was the first Daly City entry accepted for the 14th annual Grand National Roadster Show Feb. 16-25 in the Oakland Exposition Building.

Vieing in the custom division, the entry was created by Carl Mecchi of 337 First Ave., Daly City, according to show manager-producer Al Slonaker.

More than 150 unique hand-made custom cars, hot rods, sports cars, motorcycles and boats will be on display during the nationally-known Oakland automotive event.

Finished in a gleaming Tamarrack Green, the Daly City vehicle is based on a 1959 Thunderbird which has been "personalized" by Mecchi.

Among custom features are a tubular grille, Edel station-wagon taillights, Appleton spotlights, chromed, punched wheels and a chromed engine with the interior re-upholstered in green and white.

All vehicles accepted for the Grand National Roadster Show must be either hand-built or drastically re-worked from stock models to make "personalized" creations, according to Slonaker.

More than 70 major trophies headed by a $5,000, nine-foot loving cup are awarded entries displaying the newest and best ideas in creative car-building.

Show judging is in six divisions which are divided into 31 different classes of entries, Slonaker added.

Sports, Boat Show Looms At Palace

Enthusiastic members of the underwater sport will be able to see not only the greatest number of skin diving suits and accessories, but they can see thousands of dollars worth of underwater still and movie cameras with waterproof housings, lights, meters and other equipment for the submarine shutterbug.

This year's skin diving display at the 18th annual San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show at the Cow Palace, Feb. 2 through Feb. 11, will be the largest ever held under one roof, with skin diving gear of all kinds, including underwater photography equipment.

Starting from days when only a few hardy souls braved the mysterious deeps, skin diving has continued to grow during recent years and explodes this season into an acclaimed national pastime.

The largest growth of the sport has been here in the West, where weather conditions make it an all-year-round activity. This is reflected in the Sports and Boat Show, which will have four times the number of exhibits over any previous year, and will feature nine national manufacturers.

The huge exposition, known as the "World's Fair of Sports," will also have everything from luxury cruisers and sailboats to the newest equipment for fishermen, hunters, campers and vacationists just trying to get away from it all.

Show hours will be from 2 to 11 p.m. weekdays, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturdays, and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sundays.

A CLEANING HINT
A garage filled with the accumulated trash of years is splendid tinder for a vagrant spark, warns the National Automobile Club. The moral is plain but too often disregarded.

The hot-hitting Westmoor Rams lapsed for one period—the first—then came on strong to overwhelm Jefferson in a game played last Friday night high on a Westmoor windy hill.

The final score was 56-32, but for a while during the first period it looked like Jeff was going to be able to hit well enough from the outside to give the Rams' pesky zone defense some difficulty.

The Indians never got close enough to the basket. But it looked like maybe they wouldn't have to. Don Boden hit on two long jump shots from the left corner, and Larry Keeling hit on one from the right and Jeff was off to a 10-6 lead. But it quickly started to dwindle.

Though the Rams saved most of their patterns for the second half, they managed to run up 18 second period points on a couple of Harry Brown jump shots, some sets from the key by Jim Lucke, and a plethora of free throws.

Westmoor with its big men was able to consistently get the ball in close, where if the shot was missed, a foul got committed. The Indians by laying back were fouled far fewer times, and when they were had no luck in hitting the basket.

Westmoor ended with 18 points on free throws. Jeff got 10.

Cypress Hills Golf Course To Open Jan. 30

Daly City residents will have a nine-hole golf course "in their own back yard" Jan. 30 with the opening to the public of Cypress Hills golf course, located in the picturesque Colma Hills.

Head pro is Bob Silvestri of Daly City, one of the Bay area's outstanding golfers and State amateur champ.

The course — one mile south of Daly City on Hillsdale boulevard — is 2,153 yards. There are three par "4" holes and six par "3's." No membership is required.

Course and range will be open seven days a week. A pro equipment.

Restaurant carries facilities for breakfast and luncheons.

SPED IS KILLER
Excessive speed is a sudden and brutal killer, warns the National Automobile Club.

Whenever you hurry to make an appointment, or give yourself up to the lure of that wide and open road, you are giving this killer a chance to kill you.

High point man for the Rams was Jim Lucke with 16. He was followed by Mike Daniels with 14 and Harry Brown and Gary Allard with eight.

Rich Reitz was high for the Indians, as he has been in every game played, with 11 points.

Early in the game Jefferson was hurt by the loss of Larry Keeling who ran up three personal fouls and was taken out by coach Mike Orlich.

But in the end it was Westmoor's shooting accuracy both from the floor and the foul stripe that brought the Rams this easy victory. In addition to the eight point edge on free throws, the Rams shot from the floor for a 32 percentage, while the Indians could do no better than a rather cold 20 per cent.

With the victory Westmoor gained a tie for second place in Peninsula league standings with a 4-2 record, one game behind co-leaders San Mateo and Burlingame. The Rams journey away for both games this week, facing Burlingame on Wednesday, and Terra Nova on Friday.

Jefferson is at home (so to speak) for both games this week, meeting Hillsdale on Wednesday and South San Francisco Friday, both games at Westmoor High.

Rams coach Tony Giammona seems to think it's going to take a bit better than a 32 percentage to whip Burlingame. Facing the Panthers this week, and the percent league favorite San Mateo Bears at next Wednesday, the Rams are going to find themselves up against teams far taller than Jefferson.

"They're both big and tough on the boards," said Giammona. Burlingame has two top rebounders in 6 foot nine inch Hence Wallace, and 6 foot three inch John Peterson. Additionally, Peterson is currently the league's second highest scorer.

Against the other league leader, San Mateo, the Rams will be facing the league's highest scorer in Willie Colter, and two top rebounders in Phil Hamond and Tom Wilson. Another Bearcat, Bob Griggs currently is ranked sixth in the league scoring race.

Against all of this the Rams will pit Allard, Daniels, Lucke, et al. All over six feet themselves, they'll probably decide the games on the boards.

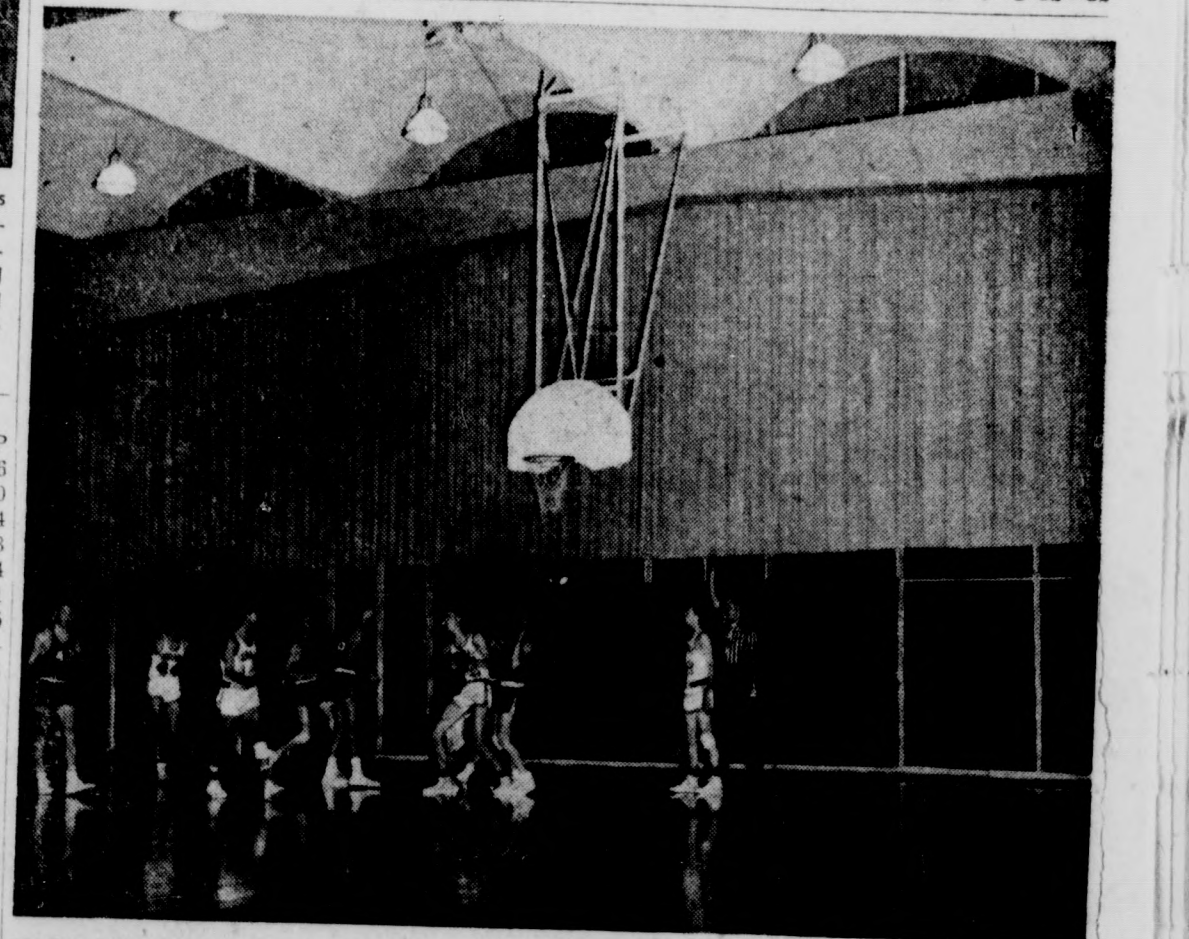

The Rams could possibly have an ace in the hole. Last Friday's game showed that the Rams possess fine reserve strength. In fact coach Giammona talks in terms of nine boys — The starting five plus Ted Tobby, Steve Schmuck, Tony Smith and Jack Kelly.

Against Jeff all looked effective.

Herald, Curator at the California Academy of Sciences in Golden Gate Park, is seriously looking for a temporary home for the ten alligators which have long been ensconced in the indoor swamp and one of the most popular sights at the academy. The rehabilitation of the aquarium will not permit the ten reptiles to remain where they are while reconstruction is going on. Each of the alligators being worth between $400 and $500 on the open alligator market, it presents Dr. Herald with a lengthy, scaly problem.

Anyone with a constructive suggestion or an answer to Dr. Herald's dilemma is invited to get in touch with him at the academy.

Clematis ... A Vine Divine

The Clematis family offers Northern California gardeners some of the most unusual and colorful vines to be found in any state. To label them vines divine is only to point up the heavenly aspects of their multi-flowered beauty.

Whether he grows the giant-flowered varieties and settles for relatively fewer flowers of the smaller-flowered forms with their profusion of blooms, the gardener is in for a treat with Clematis. He can grow them up on a pillar or a post, or laterally along fence and eave. He can even let them scramble over an old stump in a wonderful tangle of color.

Sturdiest of the Clematis family and, from the standpoint of year-around use, the most desirable for landscaping is the one evergreen variety—the Armand Clematis. In March or April, this vine is hard to see for the white two-inch pinwheels of bloom that smother it. Grown along a fence, up a post or on a trellis, it is a pleasant sight even out of bloom, with long pendulous leaves of deep green. Members of the California Association of Nurserymen rank the Armand Clematis as one of the very best vines for Northern California gardens.

Several deciduous varieties are to be found in local CAN nurseries. The Henry Clematis, with white flowers of extravagant proportions; Jackman's Clematis, with profuse large purple flowers; Ramona Clematis with flowers of striking blue; the red Mme. Edouard Andre—all favorites with those who grow them.

Culturally, whether evergreen or deciduous, Clematis should be given a cool root run and sun on the topside. If you can set plants where the root area is shaded by other plants and where the top can grow into full sun, you should know nothing but success. Ample moisture and a manure mulch are both desirable.

And if you want them to grow where they should, you will probably have to guide them with loosely tied string. Be careful not to break the brittle stems in tying, however. Left to their own, they will scramble up over something, so don't worry too much about it.

Unidentified Man Killed On Freeway

A man listed by the San Mateo County Coroner's office as a "John Doe" was killed Wednesday night, Jan. 17 just north of the California street overpass on the Bayshore freeway in South San Francisco as he attempted to cross the highway on foot.

The name Joe Panko was obtained from a social security card on this person, coroner's office sources said.

California Highway Patrolmen said the man, described as about 60 years old, weighing 180 pounds with black-grey hair, was struck by a northbound truck driven by Robert T. Finneran, 3921 Ragg road, Napa, an employee of Willig Freight Lines, 123 Loomis street, San Francisco.

The man was wearing dark trousers, dark brown hat and tan jacket and attempted to cross the highway from east to west, police said.

He was pronounced dead at Kaiser Foundation Hospital, South San Francisco. Fingerprints of the man were taken to be processed in Sacramento for further information.

"If he had used the overpass he'd probably be living today," Sgt. Otto Schramm, highway patrolman said.

Boy Struck By Moving Automobile

Four-year-old John Revetrig, 848 Templeton avenue, Daly City, was treated by a private physician for scalp and face injuries Jan. 20 when he ran into the street and was struck by a car in front of 841 Templeton avenue, police reported. The auto was driven by Paul Montez, 28, of 845 Crocker avenue.

Foundation is the fostering of projects to further understandings and friendly relations among the peoples of different nations. One of its principal programs is the awarding of fellowships to outstanding college graduates for one year of study abroad as Rotary ambassadors of good will.

Four California students are currently studying abroad under this program: Lynn D. Bender of Bakersfield at the National University of Buenos Aires, Argentina; Theodore R. Marmor of Palo Alto at the University of Oxford, England; Miss Genevieve V. Nelson of Corona at the American University at Cairo, Egypt; United Arab Republic; and John H. Southworth of Pomona at the University of Bristol, England.

Rose Garden Should Have Old And New

Something old, something new—half of what every bride wants in her wedding ensemble—is all any gardener needs for a perfect rose garden. By planting old favorites, he ties himself to the better things of the past. By adding new varieties, he keeps his interest ever on the upside.

Bear this in mind if you contemplate planting a new rose garden or renewing an old one during this, the bare-root planting season. And keep it in mind every year when the new All America Rose Selections and other fine varieties hit the market.

We get this reminder from the California Association of Nurserymen, which reports that gardeners sometimes tend toward one extreme or the other. Those who are starting from scratch seem to think that only the newest roses are worth planting, while those who already have a rose garden seem inclined to maintain the status quo.

For the former, the CAN suggests that however nice the new varieties, such wonderful roses of yesteryear as Peace, Charlotte Armstrong, Chrysler Imperial, Helen Traubel, Tiffany, Queen Elizabeth, Fashion and many, many more will never be completely supplanted in the hearts of the thousands of gardeners who grow them.

For those with rose gardens already established, the recommended formula is to add at least one or two new varieties each year. Where to put them? If your rose garden is so big you can't squeeze any new shrubs in, then there must be a variety or two that you are tired of and can pull up to give a neighbor. Or, lacking other space, try growing some roses in tubs, where they will make highly decorative additions to the sunny terrace.

The new All America Rose Selections for 1962, in case you forget, are: The chrome yellow King's Ransome; the deep red John S. Armstrong; the scarlet Christian Dior and Golden Slippers, a rich combination of orange and gold. Only a determined space saver could resist them. And of course, they only start the list of good new roses. It's downright difficult to narrow one's choice to what he can conveniently fit in among the old. There's no going wrong, however, whatever your choice!

James E. Mall Joins Atlantic Fleet

James E. Mall, musician-seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mrs. Myrtle M. Mall of 140 Windsor drive, Daly City, is serving with the Flag Administrative Unit of Admiral Robert L. Dennison, USN, Commander-in-Chief of the Atlantic Fleet at the Naval Base, Norfolk, Va.

The Atlantic Fleet, which is composed of some 450 ships and about 200,000 men, has the responsibility of protecting sea lanes, communications, allied shipping and the destruction of enemy surface vessels and submarine forces in wartime.

Before entering the Navy in October, 1960, Mall graduated from Westmoor High School in Daly City.

In a country sporting a grand total of more than 87,400,000 motor-vehicle operators' licenses in 1960, California led the states with 8,700,000 licenses. New York was second with 7,100,000, and Pennsylvania was third with 5,800,000. Illinois, Michigan, Ohio and Texas, reports the National Automobile Club, each had more than 4,000,000 licenses. These top seven states accounted for some 45 per cent of the national total.

HS FRESHMAN COED LIKES PARACHUTING

Margo Olsen, a 14-year-old freshman attending South San Francisco High School, already has had an unusual experience in a field that even trained G.I.s don't care too much about, especially the first time they try.

We are speaking of a field of wonder, beauty, worry, and suspense. If you have not guessed what we are talking about, it is the art of diving out of planes, commonly called parachuting.

What happens if it doesn't open? To this Margo calmly replied: "The parachute was designed to open automatically, and if it failed the 'driver' could open it manually." The parachutes are designed so that there is practically no chance of failure.

She became interested in parachuting when her mother decided to learn how to parachute with the aid of professional Bob Clapper. Margo reports that she was calm, cool and collected on her first jump the whole time except one moment right after leaving the plane when she mixed it up with some strong air currents. She now believes it is fun: "Just coasting down with nothing to do, but observe the scenery."

Margo has been in South San Francisco for one year since coming from Hollister, Calif., where she did her parachuting. Her future plans include going to college to become a nurse.

DOUBLE RING ceremony on Jan. 13 united Jackie Ragusa of 170 Dolores street and Thomas Gumina, 121 Westmorland drive, at Mission Dolores Basilica. The bride was a school teacher at the Thomas Edison school. The bridegroom was educated at the University of San Francisco and is presently a lieutenant in the Army at Fort Sill, Okla.
